

NEW LOOK AND FEEL FOR ANZ TRANSACTIVE

We're enhancing ANZ Transactive by introducing some fresh, new improvements to our user interface. Over the coming months you will notice the following differences when you log on to ANZ Transactive:

- a smart, new look and feel reflecting more modern visual design elements.
- improved visual alignment and consistency with other ANZ websites and applications.

We're making these changes to ANZ Transactive in response to your feedback and to make it more user friendly.

Rest assured, you will still have access to all of your existing features and functions. There will be no change to the way you currently perform your tasks, approve transactions or any changes to user settings and entitlements.

The screenshot displays the ANZ Transactive user interface. At the top, there is a dark blue header with the ANZ logo, the text 'ANZ Transactive Demo Corporation', and navigation links for 'Home', '4 (16)', '(43)', 'Help', and a 'LOGOUT' button. Below the header is a blue navigation bar with menu items: 'New Instruments', 'Transactions', 'Accounts', 'Reports', 'Reference Data', 'Upload Centre', 'Subsidiary Access', and 'My Links'. The main content area is titled 'Home' and features a 'NEW LOOK AND FEEL!' announcement box. Below this are three sections: 'Account Balances' (showing 'No data found'), 'Mail Messages' (with a filter set to 'Me (and Unassigned)') and 'Notifications' (with filters for 'Demo Corporation' and 'All'). Each section includes a table with columns for Date & Time, Subject, Reference, Assigned To, Party, and Vendor ID.

We trust you will enjoy the improved look and feel, and if you have any comments or questions, please complete our online feedback form available on Resource Central.
