ANZ offers two different types of Farm Management Deposit Account – the Variable Account and the Fixed Term Account. The following terms and conditions set out how both of these accounts work.

Where indicated, specific terms apply to each type of account. You should read these terms and conditions carefully to determine which Farm Management Deposit Account best suits your needs. Where these terms and conditions refer to an ANZ Farm Management Deposit Account it is a reference to both the Variable and the Fixed Term Account types.

This document must be read in conjunction with the "ANZ Personal Banking General Fees and Charges" and the "ANZ Farm Management Deposit Acknowledgment and Agreement Form". Together they form your Terms and Conditions for the above product.

Section 1

Special Terms and Conditions

Federal Law requires that the terms and conditions for the ANZ Farm Management Deposit Accounts include these special terms and conditions that must be observed for deposits made to the account to qualify as Farm Management Deposits under Federal Law.

The Federal Farm Management Deposit Scheme allows eligible Primary Producers to set aside pre-tax income in profitable years to establish cash reserves to help meet costs in low-income years. Generally, provided that specified conditions are satisfied, a deposit into a Farm Management Deposit account is deductible for income tax purposes in the year in which the deposit is made (note the deduction cannot exceed the primary production income for that year). Where amounts are withdrawn from the account, the amount of the deduction previously allowed should be included in your assessable income for tax purposes in the year in which the withdrawal is made.

Where you are required to pay income tax instalments under the Pay As You Go ('PAYG') regime, deposits made to the Farm Management Deposit Account may result in a reduction to the Primary Producer's instalment income for the relevant period. Withdrawals from the Farm Management Deposit Account should be included within the instalment income for the period in which the withdrawal is made. Accordingly, deposits and withdrawals may impact the tax instalments that are payable for PAYG purposes.

You must read this section very carefully and must always comply with these special terms and conditions. If you breach these special terms and conditions, deposits to your ANZ Farm Management Deposit Account may not qualify as Farm Management Deposits under Federal Law. This may have significant tax consequences for you. It is you, and not ANZ, who is responsible for ensuring that you comply with these terms and conditions. Accordingly, ANZ recommends that you seek your own independent taxation or financial advice in relation to the ANZ Farm Management Deposit Account.

You must be a Primary Producer (with taxable non-primary production income of $100,000 or less or other amount as amended by the Federal law from time to time) at the time of making a Farm Management Deposit to your ANZ Farm Management Deposit Account. Your ANZ Farm Management Deposit Account can only be opened in your name and cannot be held jointly, or otherwise, with any other person. Your ANZ Farm Management Deposit Account cannot be opened by a person in trust for a beneficiary, unless the beneficiary is presently entitled to a share of the income of the trust estate and is under a legal disability. The account cannot otherwise be opened by a person in his or her capacity as trustee.

The total amount of Farm Management Deposits standing to the credit of your ANZ Farm Management Deposit Accounts together with any other Farm Management Deposit accounts you may hold with other Authorised Deposit taking Institutions (ADI) must not exceed $800,000 at any time. If you withdraw any part of a deposit made to your ANZ Farm Management Deposit Account within 12 months after you deposited it into your ANZ Farm Management Deposit Account, the amount withdrawn, or the entire deposit, may be taken to never have been a Farm Management Deposit unless:

- the deposit was made with ANZ as a result of a transfer of a Farm Management Deposit from another financial institution, in which case you may withdraw the money 12 months after the applicable depositing day; or
- you die, become bankrupt or cease to be a Primary Producer for at least 120 days (in which case the deposit must be repaid); or
- the withdrawal comprises an electronic transfer of your Farm Management Deposit in your ANZ Farm Management Deposit Account made by ANZ (in accordance with your written request) to another financial institution which has agreed to accept the funds as a Farm Management Deposit; or
- at the time of the withdrawal, the primary production business was in receipt of Commonwealth natural disaster relief and recovery arrangements as specified in the Farm Management Deposits Regulations (as amended from time to time)

- The land on which the primary production business is carried on is experiencing severe drought conditions as defined for the purposes of the Income Tax Assessment Act and Farm Management Deposits Regulations (as amended from time to time)

If a partial withdrawal is made under any other circumstances within 12 months of the deposit, the Farm Management Deposit status will only be denied to the extent of the amount withdrawn. The balance, provided it is greater than $1,000, will continue to be a Farm Management Deposit and the 12 month requirement will continue to apply to this amount.

The amount of the repayment of the deposit must be at least $1,000, except where the entire amount of the deposit is repaid.

As of 29 November 2011, Primary Producers are allowed to hold Farm Management Deposit accounts with more than one Authorised Deposit Taking Institution (ADI). It is the responsibility of the Primary Producer to ensure that the sum total of Farm Management Deposit balances they hold with all ADIs is not more than $800,000 at any time. You must not transfer or attempt to transfer your rights in respect of Farm Management Deposits made to your ANZ Farm Management Deposit Account to any other person.

You must not create a charge or other encumbrance over Farm Management Deposits made to your ANZ Farm Management Deposit Account as security for an amount payable by you or any other person to ANZ or to any other person. Amounts that would otherwise accrue as interest or other earnings on Farm Management Deposits made to your ANZ Farm Management Deposit Account may be used to reduce your liabilities to pay interest to ANZ in respect of your loans or other debt only if ANZ agrees to offer you an eligible offset account and you maintain that account in accordance with its terms.

Interest or other earnings on Farm Management Deposits made to your ANZ Farm Management Deposit Account may not be invested as a Farm Management Deposit without having first being paid to you.

If you request it in writing, ANZ must electronically transfer Farm Management Deposits made to your ANZ Farm Management Deposit Account to another financial institution that has agreed to accept the funds as Farm Management Deposits. ANZ may not deduct from Farm Management Deposits made to your ANZ Farm Management Deposit Account, any administration fee or other amount required by ANZ to be paid in respect of your Farm Management Deposit or otherwise. Any fee or charge payable on the Farm Management Deposit account will be charged to a separate account as agreed at the time of opening the Farm Management Deposit. Generally, this is the same account into which interest earned on the Farm Management Deposit is paid to.

The minimum initial Farm Management Deposit to your ANZ Farm Management Deposit Account is as follows:

ANZ Farm Management Deposit Variable Account	$1,000
ANZ Farm Management Deposit Fixed Term Account	$1,000

Section 2

Application of these Terms and Conditions

If you are opening a new account, these terms and conditions will apply immediately. Other terms and conditions, including those implied by law, apply. To the extent of any inconsistency, these terms and conditions shall prevail to the extent permitted by law. You should read all terms and conditions provided to you and ask ANZ about any issues that concern you.

Section 3

How to Open an Account

Under Federal Government law, we must verify the identity of all account holders, and anyone authorised to act for them. For us to do this you and anyone authorised to act for you must satisfactorily meet ANZ's Customer Identification Process.

Depending on your business and/or structure you will be required to provide certain documents and information to ANZ.

For information relating to the documents required please contact any branch or speak to your ANZ Manager.

If you, or signatories to the account, are not identified in terms of the law, the account will be blocked for all withdrawals until the requirements are satisfied.

If you are an existing customer, or account signatory, identification requirements may have previously been satisfied so you don't need to provide the information again, unless you are asked to do so by us.

Section 4

Operating Your ANZ Farm Management Deposit Account

Authority for Account Operation

ANZ Farm Management Deposit Accounts can only be opened under an individual name. However under specific circumstances, you can nominate a person, in writing, to operate your account on your behalf. Except where expressly provided, ANZ can act at all times on the basis that the authorised operator or operators can act fully and effectively in all dealings, matters and transactions in respect of the account. You are responsible to ANZ for all liability that is incurred as a result of operations on the account. If you wish to alter the account authorisation instructions then you must notify ANZ in writing.

Deposits

There is a minimum initial deposit of $1,000 for the ANZ Farm Management Deposit Variable Account, and a minimum initial deposit of $1,000 for the ANZ Farm Management Deposit Fixed Term Account.

You may make additional deposits to your ANZ Farm Management Variable Deposit Account in person at any ANZ branch, or by arranging a direct debit from another account.

Combining Farm Management Deposits

A new Farm Management Deposit account will need to be established upon any request to combine Farm Management Deposit accounts. You need to have held the FMD accounts being combined for a minimum of 12 months before combining into a single FMD account. We recommend that you obtain independent tax advice before making an application to combine FMD accounts.

You cannot make additional deposits to your ANZ Farm Management Deposit Fixed Term Account during the term of the investment.

Withdrawing or Transferring Money

a) ANZ Farm Management Deposit Variable Accounts

Withdrawals from your ANZ Farm Management Deposit Variable Account may be lodged over the counter at the ANZ branch at which your account is held. If you wish to lodge a withdrawal at an ANZ branch that is not the one where your account is held, ANZ may require you to provide satisfactory identification. You can elect to have withdrawals from your account paid to you in cash, by bank cheque or by a direct credit to an account nominated by you. Except where the entire amount of a Farm Management Deposit is repaid, the minimum amount of a withdrawal from your ANZ Farm Management Deposit Variable Account is $1,000.

b) ANZ Farm Management Deposit Fixed Term Accounts

If you wish to withdraw all or part of the funds credited to your ANZ Farm Management Deposit Fixed Term Account before its maturity date, you require ANZ's agreement. Any request must be made in writing. If ANZ agrees to an early withdrawal, then ANZ will be entitled to reduce the interest rate payable on your account.

Where ANZ agrees to an early withdrawal the following early redemption structure will apply. An administration fee of $30 will be charged and the money you withdraw early will incur an interest rate reduction based on the percentage of the original term that has elapsed, as illustrated below. The administration fee and interest penalty charges (if any) will be charged to the nominated account as detailed in Section 1 of this document.

% of Term Elapsed	Interest Rate Reduction
0 to less than 20%	90%
20% to less than 40%	80%
40% to less than 60%	60%
60% to less than 80%	40%
80% to less than 100%	20%

The money you leave in the account will continue to earn the interest rate originally agreed provided it meets the minimum balance requirements. If the amount remaining after a partial withdrawal would be less than the minimum allowed for an ANZ Farm Management Deposit Fixed Term Account, then the whole balance must be withdrawn. No interest adjustment will be made where an ANZ Farm Management Deposit Fixed Term Account is repaid before maturity following the death of a depositor.

For all ANZ Farm Management Deposit Accounts ANZ must repay all deposits if you:

- die;
- become bankrupt; or
- cease to be a Primary Producer for at least 120 days.

If you make a request to ANZ in writing and provide ANZ with any information and assistance that it requires, ANZ must transfer a Farm Management Deposit by electronic means to another ADI that has provided written advice that it agrees to accept the deposit as a Farm Management Deposit. ANZ may allow you to make withdrawals or debits to your account in other ways, subject to the restrictions on withdrawals in Section 1.

Failure to Quote Your Tax File Number /Australian Business Number

It is not compulsory to provide your TFN and it is not an offence if you decline to do so however in the event that you have not quoted your TFN or ABN (or exemption) to ANZ, ANZ will be required to deduct and remit withholding tax at the highest marginal rate plus Medicare levy on the interest earned, and withdrawals of principal amounts, in respect of your Farm Management Deposit Account.

The processing time to deduct the withholding tax and credit the remaining funds from your total withdrawal amount will be up to two business days. The processing time of two business days also applies to any refund of withholding tax deducted from your account, when you subsequently supply your TFN in the same tax year it was deducted.

Account Fees

ANZ must not deduct from a Farm Management Deposit whether at the time it is made, while it is with ANZ or at the time of its repayment any administration fee or other amount required by ANZ to be paid in respect of the Farm Management Deposit or otherwise. Where a withdrawal is requested by you by bank cheque, a fee for that bank cheque may apply (it is payable on demand). If ANZ fails to collect a fee to which it is entitled, ANZ has not waived its right to collect the fee for future transactions of the same nature. ANZ may waive fees under certain conditions. Information on all current standard and special fees and charges is available on request at any ANZ branch or by obtaining a copy of our brochure 'ANZ Personal Banking General Fees and Charges'.

Changes to Fees and Charges and Interest Rates

The table below sets out how and when ANZ will notify you of changes to your account. You agree that ANZ may notify you of certain changes by advertisement in major daily or national newspapers.

ANZ may make the following changes:

	Minimum Number of Days Notice	Method of Notice
Introduce a new fee or charge	30 days	In writing
Increase an existing fee or charge	30 days	In writing or by press advertisement
Change the method by which interest is calculated or the frequency with which interest is debited or credited	30 days	In writing
Change the interest rate that applies to your account	Day of change	In writing or by press advertisement
Change the name of interest rates, accounts or publications	Day of change	In writing or by press advertisement

The rights mentioned above should be read as if they are each a separate right of ANZ even though they are set out in the one table.

Changes to Other Terms and Conditions

ANZ may make any other change by giving you reasonable notice of the change, which may include notice on the day the variation takes effect if that is reasonable in the circumstances.

For example it will be reasonable in the circumstances to give notice on the day of the change if ANZ reasonably considers the change:

- i. has a neutral effect on your obligations;
- ii. reduces your obligations or;
- iii. is required to comply with any law

but these examples do not limit the circumstances in which it may otherwise be reasonable.

Despite this clause, ANZ will always give you notice in accordance with any applicable laws or industry codes (such as the Code of Banking Practice) which require any minimum notice periods or specific methods of notification.

Small Business Customer

This clause will apply to you if you are a small business (as defined by the Code of Banking Practice) and ANZ makes a change only to your terms and conditions, but not to the terms and conditions of other small business customers.

Where this clause provides that the minimum notice period is the day of change, if ANZ reasonably considers the change will be materially adverse to you, it will provide you with reasonable notice of the change (not less than 10 business days) unless it considers a shorter notice period is necessary to avoid or reduce an increase in credit risk to ANZ.

Interest

Details of current interest rates applicable to your account are available:

- by contacting the Agri Business Banking Line Freecall on 1800 462 474 8am to 8pm, Monday to Friday; or
- at any ANZ branch; or
- on www.anz.com

Interest on Farm Management Deposits to your ANZ Farm Management Deposit Account cannot be invested directly as a Farm Management Deposit without first being paid to you. Amounts that would otherwise accrue as interest or other earnings on Farm Management Deposits made to your ANZ Farm Management Deposit Account may be used to reduce your liabilities to pay interest to ANZ in respect of your loans or other debt only if ANZ agrees to offer you an eligible offset account and you maintain that account in accordance with its terms.

Interest Calculations

a) ANZ Farm Management Deposit Variable Accounts

Interest will be calculated on the daily closing balance of your ANZ Farm Management Deposit Variable Account and paid to you monthly, based on your account opening date or other date nominated by ANZ. The interest rate is tiered. This means that if the balance in your ANZ Farm Management Deposit Variable Account is above a certain level, then a higher rate of interest will be paid on the whole balance. The interest rate is variable. The daily interest rate is the annual rate divided by 365.

b) ANZ Farm Management Deposit Fixed Term Accounts

ANZ Farm Management Deposit Fixed Term Accounts can be opened for any term between three months and two years. Interest is paid annually and at maturity.

Interest is calculated on the opening balance of your account. The rate of interest is fixed for the term of your deposit. ANZ will advise you of the interest rate for the particular term that you have chosen at the time you make the deposit. Interest accrues daily and the daily interest rate is the rate fixed for the term of your deposit divided by 365. Interest is not compounded. On the maturity of your ANZ Farm Management Deposit Fixed Term Account, if for any reason ANZ does not have any instructions from you as to what should happen to your funds, ANZ will reinvest them in the same type of ANZ Farm Management Deposit Fixed Term Account as you initially chose. Normally ANZ will ask you at the time you open your ANZ Farm Management Deposit Fixed Term Account for instructions about what to do with your funds on maturity.

Interest Payments

Interest on all of your Farm Management Deposits will be credited to an ANZ account:

- other than your ANZ Farm Management Deposit Account;
- that you hold; and
- that you have nominated in writing to be the account to which interest on all of your Farm Management Deposits is to be paid.

If we have not received written instruction from you as to which account interest on your Farm Management Deposit is to be paid to, then interest will be paid to you by cheque and will be sent to your mailing address we have on file.

Statements

ANZ will issue statements for your ANZ Farm Management Deposit Variable Account at least once every six months. If there are errors or unauthorised transactions shown on your statement you must contact ANZ as soon as possible.

For ANZ Farm Management Deposit Fixed Accounts, a Record of Investment will be issued to you at the time of opening your account and also when its rolled after maturity. A statement will also be issued annually.

You must carefully review your statements so you are aware of the status of your account. If you believe there are errors or unauthorised transactions shown on your statement, you must contact ANZ as soon as possible.
