It will be calculated on daily basis from the transaction date to the date that the transaction is paid full, adjusted by any payment made. by Card holder and received by Bank. New transactions are included in interest calculation. The calculation of interest will be as follows:

Transaction Calculation

The interest will be calculated starting transaction date until payment date. The interest will not be imposed to any full payment transaction and made before the due date.

Interest Calculation Formula:

$$\frac{\text{Interest Period (day)} \times \text{Monthly Interest Rate}}{(\%) \times \text{Total Purchase Transaction} \times 12}$$

365 days

Interest Period (day) is the total sum of days counted from the day of transaction to the date of total payment.

Interest Calculation for Cash Withdrawal

The interest will be calculated from the date of cash withdrawal to the date of payment. The interest will be imposed to any full payment transaction.

Interest Rate Formula:

$$\frac{\text{Interest Period (day)} \times \text{Monthly Interest Rate}}{(\%) \times \text{Amount of Cash Withdrawal} \times 12}$$

365 days

Interest Period (day) is the total sum of days counted from the day of transaction to the date of total payment.
