For calculation of minimum capital requirements under Pillar I of the Basel II Accord, the Overseas Banking Group has been accredited by the Australian Prudential Regulation Authority (“APRA”) to use the Advanced Internal Ratings Based (“AIRB”) methodology for calculation of credit risk weighted assets and the Advanced Measurement Approach (“AMA”) for the operational risk weighted asset equivalent. The Basel II Accord came into effect from 1 January 2008. The Overseas Banking Group and the Overseas Bank (Extended Licensed Entity) (as defined by APRA) met the minimum capital adequacy requirements as specified by APRA as at 30 September 2009 and 30 September 2008. APRA specifies a minimum prudential capital ratio for the Overseas Banking Group, which is not made publicly available.

Peak Credit Exposure Concentrations - for the three months ended 30 September

For the three months ended 30 September 2009, the NZ Banking Group had no peak end-of-day credit exposures, on the basis of limits, to any bank or non-bank counterparties, equal to or in excess of 10% of the Overseas Banking Group’s equity (30 September 2008: nil). The peak end-of-day exposures have been calculated using the Overseas Banking Group’s equity as at 30 September 2009. The equity used in calculating the comparatives was at 30 September 2008. These calculations exclude credit exposures to the central government of any country with a long term credit rating of A- or A3 or above, or its equivalent.

Australia and New Zealand Banking Group Limited – New Zealand Branch

Key Information Summary for the year ended 30 September 2009

Ranking of local creditors in liquidation

There are material legislative restrictions in the Overseas Bank’s country of incorporation which subordinate the claims of a class of unsecured creditors of the Registered Bank on the assets of the Overseas Bank to those of another class of unsecured creditors of the Overseas Bank, in liquidation of the Overseas Bank.

The Banking Act 1959 of the Commonwealth of Australia (the “Banking Act”) gives priority over Australian assets of the Overseas Bank to Australian depositors if the Overseas Bank is unable to meet its obligations or suspends payment. Accordingly, New Zealand depositors (together with all other senior unsecured creditors of the Overseas Bank) will rank after Australian depositors of the Overseas Bank in relation to claims against Australian assets.

Specifically, pursuant to section 13A(3) of the Banking Act, if an Authorised Deposit Taking Institution (defined in that Act to include a Bank like the Overseas Bank) (an “ADI”) becomes unable to meet its obligations or suspends payment, the assets of the ADI in Australia are to be available to meet the ADI’s liabilities in the following order:

a) first, the ADI’s liabilities to the APRA (if any), because of the rights APRA has against the ADI because APRA has made, or is required to make, payments to depositors under the Financial Claims Scheme;

b) second, the ADI’s debts to APRA for costs incurred by APRA in administration of the Financial Claims Scheme in respect of the ADI;

c) third, in payment of the ADI’s deposit liabilities in Australia (other than liabilities covered under paragraph (a)); and

d) fourth, the ADI’s other liabilities (in order of priority apart from section 13A(3)).

Under section 13A(1) of the Banking Act, in certain circumstances APRA may take control of an ADI or appoint an administrator (defined in the Banking Act) to take control of its business. Section 16(1) and (2) of the Banking Act provide that, despite anything contained in any law relating to the winding up of companies, but subject to section 13A(3) of the Banking Act, the debts of an ADI to APRA in respect of APRA’s costs (including costs in the nature of remuneration and expenses) of being in control of the ADI’s business or of having an administrator in control of the ADI’s business have priority in a winding up of the ADI over all other unsecured debts.

Specifically, pursuant to section 13A(1) of the Banking Act, if an Authorised Deposit Taking Institution (defined in that Act to include a Bank like the Overseas Bank) (an “ADI”) becomes unable to meet its obligations or suspends payment, the assets of the ADI in Australia are to be available to meet the ADI’s liabilities in the following order:

a) first, the ADI’s liabilities to the APRA (if any), because of the rights APRA has against the ADI because APRA has made, or is required to make, payments to depositors under the Financial Claims Scheme;

b) second, the ADI’s debts to APRA for costs incurred by APRA in administration of the Financial Claims Scheme in respect of the ADI;

c) third, in payment of the ADI’s deposit liabilities in Australia (other than liabilities covered under paragraph (a)); and

d) fourth, the ADI’s other liabilities (in order of priority apart from section 13A(3)).

Under section 13A(1) of the Banking Act, in certain circumstances APRA may take control of an ADI or appoint an administrator (defined in the Banking Act) to take control of its business. Section 16(1) and (2) of the Banking Act provide that, despite anything contained in any law relating to the winding up of companies, but subject to section 13A(3) of the Banking Act, the debts of an ADI to APRA in respect of APRA’s costs (including costs in the nature of remuneration and expenses) of being in control of the ADI’s business or of having an administrator in control of the ADI’s business have priority in a winding up of the ADI over all other unsecured debts.

Section 86 of the Reserve Bank Act 1959 provides that notwithstanding anything contained in any law relating to the winding up of companies, but subject to section 13A(3) of the Banking Act, debts due to the Reserve Bank of Australia by any ADI shall, in a winding up, have priority over all other debts other than debts due to the Commonwealth of Australia.

Section 13A(3) affects all of the unsecured deposit liabilities of the NZ Branch which as at 30 September 2009 amounted to NZ$174 million (30 September 2008: NZ$169 million). There are no non-consolidated activities.

The Overseas Bank carries on insurance business in New Zealand through the NZ Banking Group’s 49% share in the ING NZ joint venture. The NZ Banking Group does not carry on insurance business directly. No non-financial activities are carried on in New Zealand outside of the NZ Banking Group.
