Overview

Australia and New Zealand Banking Group Limited recorded a $17 \%$ increase in underlying profit after tax for the year ended 30 September 1997 to $$ 1,308$ million. This was prior to an additional transfer to the general provision of $$ 137$ million and abnormal items of $$ 147$ million (both after tax) leading to an operating profit after tax and abnormal items of $$ 1,024$ million.

Interest margins declined reflecting competitive pressures and falling interest rates. Despite this, net interest income increased by $3 \%$ from strong growth in business lending in Australia and across the international network, particularly South Asia, Asia Pacific and the Middle East.

Non-interest income was strong with growth of $15 \%$. Good trading performances in buoyant global markets led to the significant increase in trading, fee and other provide against specific regions, industries or individual borrowers. The general provision now stands at $0.9 \%$ of risk weighted assets, well in excess of the Reserve Bank of Australia guideline of $0.5 \%$.

Cost reduction is a major priority for the Group. We are proceeding with the implementation of ANZ Global. The change programs resulted in a $$ 417$ million before tax restructuring charge. This amount covers both completed restructuring programs and those ANZ Global projects in train to which the Group is demonstrably committed. Of this charge, $$ 327$ million is abnormal.

The effective tax rate is $32.9 \%$ (1996: 30.3\%), impacted by the increased general provision charge and the level of rebateable dividends.

The Arbitrators of the long running dispute with the National Housing Bank of India ("NHB") handed down their award in the Group's favour on 29 March. The NHB has repaid the deposit together with interest at $18 \%$ in accordance with the decision. Given its size, the $$ 65$ million interest receipt (after tax) is disclosed as an abnormal item. Subsequently, NHB filed documents with the relevant Court to challenge the award. ANZ is confident that the award will stand.

The final dividend is increased to 26 cents per share, fully franked, bringing the full year dividend to 48 cents per share compared to 42 cents for 1996. We said last year that there would be some limit on our future franking capacity as the proportion of Group profits earned offshore increases. Furthermore, the restructuring costs do impact our franking capacity. As a result, we do not expect that dividends in 1998 will be fully franked.

At year end, the Group had total assets of $$ 138$ billion, shareholders' equity of $$ 6.9$ billion, and a Tier 1 capital ratio of $6.6 \%$.

| Netinterest average margin | $\mathbf{1 1 3 . 1 4 2}$ | 99.671 |
| Average interest earning assets $($ M)$ |  |  |

Net interest income grew by $3 \%$ as asset growth offset reduced margins in the domestic markets.

Competitive pressures in Australia and New Zealand led to the 19 point decline in gross interest spread. Lower levels of non-accrual loans and lower interest rates reduced the related funding costs. However, the lower interest rates also reduced the earning rate on non-interest bearing items, resulting in a 32 point reduction in overall margins.

The reduction in margins was more than offset by strong growth in interest earning assets in International markets, particularly South Asia, Asia Pacific and the Middle East, the investment bank and business lending in Australia.

Non-interest income increased by $15 \%$. Strong growth in our Cards business together with higher transaction and corporate advisory fees lifted fee income.

Foreign exchange continues to be a stable core business. Good trading performances in buoyant global markets led to the significant increase in trading, fee and other income. The Group is involved in investment banking capital markets activities. This portion of the Group's earnings is sensitive to asset prices in the global financial markets. Profits before tax from these activities were $208 million in 1997 (1996: $100 million). Refer page 32.

Strong growth in operating lease income and the profit on the sale of the Omani operation also lifted other income.

| Direct income-related expenditure | $\mathbf{3 3 7}$ | 295 |
| Restructuring costs |  |  |

${ }^{1}$ In addition, restructuring costs of $$ 327$ million have been treated as abnormal in the year ended 30 September 1997
Core costs increased by $2 \%$. Staff numbers in Australia and New Zealand declined as a result of branch closures and increased automation and centralisation of processes particularly in retail banking and Esanda, albeit there were higher overtime and temporary staff costs relating to these major change programs. Personnel costs grew by $8 \%$ as a result of higher performance related bonuses in our investment banking activities and higher overtime and temporary staff costs. The recruitment of relatively highly paid professional staff in the investment bank and the impact of high salary inflation in South Asia and Middle East also contributed to the increase in personnel expenses.

Premises costs fell due to branch closures while computer expenses were steady. Expansion of our Cards and operating lease business underpinned the growth in direct income-related costs.

Other expenses fell reflecting a favourable non-lending loss experience both in Australia and following resolution of certain Indian scam related issues in the second half.

The specific provision charge fell by $26 \%$, reflecting continued good credit conditions and experience. New and increased provisions were slightly down while releases and recoveries were also favourable to last year.

The general provision charge was $$ 201$ million, including an additional transfer of $$ 137$ million. The latter was in recognition that loan losses would normally be higher than current levels across the economic cycle. The additional general provision transfer was based on the annual average provision implied in our portfolio risk management models and is not linked to any need to provide against specific regions, industries or individual borrowers. The general provision now stands at $0.9 \%$ of risk weighted assets, well in excess of the Reserve Bank of Australia guideline of $0.5 \%$.

Non-accrual loans

Gross non-accruals were reduced by $$ 353$ million to $$ 872$ million through asset realisations and reduced new non-accrual loans.

Net non-accrual loans fell to $$ 428$ million and represent $6 \%$ of shareholders' equity at September 1997, down from $11 \%$ in 1996.

The Group remains well provided with the coverage ratio (specific provisions to gross non-accrual loans) now above 50\%.

Balance Sheet

Group assets grew by $8 \%$.

Good lending growth was achieved, particularly in business lending in Australia, the investment bank and international markets (South Asia, Asia Pacific and the Middle East).

Funding for asset growth came from the wholesale market, as well as from increased retail and corporate deposits.

Total shareholders' equity increased to $$ 7$ billion and capital resources increased to $$ 10.4$ billion, after the redemption of some subordinated debt.

Capital adequacy

The Reserve Bank of Australia's guideline ratio of qualifying capital to risk weighted assets is a minimum of $8.0 \%$, of which Tier 1 capital must be at least $4.0 \%$. The Group's capital adequacy ratio is $9.8 \%$, with a Tier 1 ratio of $6.6 \%$, down $0.1 \%$ from September 1996. Retained earnings and dividend reinvestment supported the $14 \%$ growth in risk weighted assets achieved over the year. The Group seeks to maintain the Tier 1 ratio in the range of $6.5 \%$ to $7.0 \%$.

Risk management

Effective management of risk is a core competency of all major financial institutions. The major risk areas are broadly defined as follows:

- Credit Risk - risk of financial loss from the failure of customers to honour fully the terms of a credit facility.
- Market Risk - comprises balance sheet and trading risk which involve risk to earnings and capital from changes in interest rates and liquidity, currency fluctuations, foreign currency capital fluctuations, equity and commodity prices.
- Operating Risk - the risks of day to day business operations, including preparedness to recover from a disaster, processing and settling of transactions, safeguarding of assets and adherence to laws and regulations etc.

These risks are managed within an overall risk management framework that provides defined standards, policies and processes and is co-ordinated by Group Risk Management.

The risk management processes are subject to the oversight of the Risk Management Committee of the Board. This includes the review of risk exposures and credit portfolio strategy, policy, process and controls (including establishing approval authorities for the management of exposures).

Specialist units assist the Risk Management Committee in its oversight capacity and are responsible for the strategic co-ordination of risk matters. For example, with respect to credit risk management, the Board has delegated specific credit authority limits to the Credit Approvals Committee. The Global Funds Management Committee co-ordinates matters relating to market risk. The Operating Risk Executive Committee maintains and reviews operating risk policy and monitors operating practices.

We have reviewed our exposures in Asia and are satisfied that there are no immediate concerns. Non-accrual loans in Asia total $\$ 16$ million and loans to higher risk counterparties (equivalent to a Moody's rating of $\mathrm{B}+$ or less) total $\$ 111$ million. Further information is provided at Appendix A.

${ }^{1}$ Before abnormal items
Notwithstanding competitive pressures, underlying profit after tax showed strong growth of $16 \%$. Operating profit after tax was impacted by the additional general provision charge of $$ 137$ million.

Reduced housing margins, together with falling interest rates, resulted in a decline in overall margins. However, this was offset by good growth in business lending and, to a lesser extent, housing lending.

Strong growth in the Cards business through the co-branded Telstra/Qantas card and higher transaction fee income lifted total fee income. Strong trading profits and corporate advisory fees, together with the impact of market appreciation on the life surplus also boosted total income. Operating expenses were higher with increased personnel costs reflecting higher profit share. The retail transformation programs resulted in the closure of 200 branches and staff numbers falling by $11 \%$. Esanda's operations also underwent major transformation during the year which will result in significant efficiency improvements.

Our Funds Management activities again grew strongly with funds under management growing by $16 \%$.
Asset quality continues to improve with net non-accrual loans now approaching $$ 300$ million or $0.4 \%$ of net advances.

${ }^{I}$ Before abnormal items
While New Zealand profit before debt provisions was steady, the profit after tax increased by $20 \%$ benefiting from net provision releases and a lower effective tax rate.

Competitive pressures remained intense which, together with the impact of the capital repatriation to Australia, led to a 47 basis point fall in margins. Lending growth, while down on 1996 levels, improved in the second half with strong housing growth.

The deterioration in the cost to income ratio reflects, inter alia, higher restructuring costs and adjustments to the residual value of leased assets. Core costs were stable.

The UDC leasing business continued to grow, driving the increase in non-fee income.
Restructuring of the operations in New Zealand continued with a further 62 branches closed, resulting in a $6 \%$ fall in staff numbers.

The funds management operation in New Zealand had a very successful year with excellent investment results attracting a strong inflow of new funds, lifting funds under management by $17 \%$.

ANZ's international businesses have continued to perform well. Profit before debt provisions increased by 25\% driven by lending growth of $17 \%$ at stable spreads and strong growth in non-interest income. Asset quality remained good. In Asia, non-accrual loans total $\$ 16$ million and loans to higher risk counterparties (equivalent to a Moody's rating of $\mathrm{B}+$ or less) total $\$ 111$ million.

Strong trading profits and portfolio management performance fees underpinned the continuing strong UK earnings.

Asia Pacific experienced good lending growth, but profits were constrained by increased provisioning in Sri Lanka in the first half.

South Asia again achieved strong lending growth and benefited from the removal of the funding drag relating to the NHB deposit, which was repaid in April, and the release of non-lending loss provisions.

The Middle East also had good lending growth and benefited from the sale of Omani operations in the first half.

${ }^{1}$ The Mar 1997 interim dividend of 22 cents was fully franked (1996: franked to 9 cents)
${ }^{2}$ The Sep 1997 final dividend of 26 cents is fully franked (1996: fully franked)
The directors propose that a final dividend of 26 cents per share be paid on each fully paid ordinary share. The dividend will be fully franked. Non-resident shareholders will be exempt from dividend withholding tax on the full dividend.

Dividend payout on ordinary shares (before bonus option plan) is $$ 721$ million for the 1997 financial year (final $$ 392$ million and interim $$ 329$ million) compared to 1996 full year of $$ 619$ million (final $$ 355$ million and interim $264 million).

The proposed final dividend will be formally declared on 15 December 1997 and will be payable on 21 January 1998 to shareholders registered in the books of the Company at close of business on 12 December 1997. Transfers must be lodged before 5.00 pm on that day to participate. Dividends payable to shareholders on the United Kingdom and New Zealand registers will be converted to local currency at the appropriate rate for telegraphic transfers on 12 December 1997.

Dividend Franking Account

The amount of franking credits available for the subsequent financial year is nil, after adjusting for franking credits that will arise from the payment of tax on Australian profits for the 1997 financial year, less franking credits which will be utilised in franking the proposed final dividend and franking credits that may be prevented from being distributed in the subsequent year.

DERIVATIVE FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

Derivatives

Derivative instruments are contracts whose value is derived from one or more underlying financial instruments or indices. They include swaps, forward rate agreements, futures, options and combinations of these instruments. The use of derivatives and their sale to customers as risk management products is an integral part of the Group's trading activities. Derivatives are also used to manage the Group's own exposure to fluctuations in exchange and interest rates as part of its asset and liability management activities. Derivatives are subject to the same types of credit and market risk as other financial instruments, and the Group manages these risks in a consistent manner.

The principal exchange rate contracts used by the Group are forward foreign exchange contracts, currency swaps and currency options. Forward foreign exchange contracts are agreements to buy or sell a specified quantity of foreign currency on a specified future date at an agreed rate. A currency swap generally involves the exchange, or notional exchange, of equivalent amounts of two currencies and a commitment to exchange interest periodically until the principal amounts are re-exchanged on a future date. Currency options provide the buyer with the right, but not the obligation, either to purchase or sell a fixed amount of a currency at a specified rate on or before a future date. As compensation for assuming the option risk, the option writer generally receives a premium at the start of the option period.

The principal interest rate contracts used by the Group are forward rate agreements, interest rate futures, interest rate swaps and options. Forward rate agreements are contracts for the payment of the difference between a specified interest rate and a reference rate on a notional deposit at a future settlement date. There is no exchange of principal. An interest rate future is an exchange traded contract for the delivery of a standardised amount of a fixed income security or time deposit at a future date. Interest rate swap transactions generally involve the exchange of fixed and floating interest payment obligations without the exchange of the underlying principal amounts.

Derivative transactions generate income for the Group from the buy-sell spreads and from the trading positions taken by the Group. Income from these transactions is taken to net interest income, foreign exchange earnings or profit on trading instruments. Income or expense on derivatives entered into for balance sheet hedging purposes is accrued and recorded as an adjustment to the interest income or expense of the related hedged item.

Credit risk

The credit risk of derivative financial instruments arises from the potential for a counterparty to default on its contractual obligations. Credit risk arises when market movements are such that the derivative has a positive value to the Group. It is the cost of replacing the contract in the event of counterparty default. The Group limits its credit risk within a conservative framework by dealing with creditworthy counterparties, setting credit limits on exposures to counterparties, and obtaining collateral where appropriate.

The following table provides an overview of the Group's exchange rate and interest rate derivatives. It includes all contracts, both trading and non-trading. Notional principal amounts measure the amount of the underlying physical or financial commodity and represent the volume of outstanding transactions. They are not a measure of the risk associated with a derivative.

The gross replacement cost is the cost of replacing those financial instruments with a positive market value to the Group. It represents the potential credit loss had all counterparties defaulted on the reporting date and any collateral become worthless. There is no allowance for netting arrangements.

The credit equivalent amount is calculated in accordance with the Reserve Bank of Australia's Capital Adequacy guidelines. It combines the aggregate gross replacement cost with an allowance for the potential increase in value over the remaining term of the transaction should market conditions change.

Concentrations of credit risk exist for groups of counterparties when they have similar economic characteristics. Major concentrations of credit risk arise by location and type of customer.

The following table shows the concentrations of credit risk, by class of counterparty and by geographic location, measured by credit equivalent amount. In excess of $78 \%$ of the Group's exposures are with counterparties which are either Australian banks or banks based in other OECD countries.

Market Risk

The market risk of derivatives arises from the potential for changes in value due to movements in interest and foreign exchange rates.

The Group calculates value at risk based on historical models of movements in interest rates and exchange rates, and using a $97.5 \%$ confidence level that the adverse movements will not exceed the value at risk. If value at risk is estimated to be $$ 1$ million, then based on historical analysis over 500 working days there is approximately one chance in 40 of seeing an adverse movement in excess of $$ 1$ million within the current trading day, on the basis of the opening position. Reflecting the nature of its trading activities, the Group monitors its value at risk by reference to close-to-close (overnight) risk levels.

Below are the Group's aggregate value at risk figures covering both physical and derivatives trading positions for its principal treasury trading centres. The increase in value at risk is due to the inclusion of the Group's Capital Market activities within the value at risk regime. Previously, the risks associated with these activities were managed as credit risks within Group's credit systems and controls.

The next table shows the fair values of the Group's derivatives by product type, disaggregated into gross unrealised gains and gross unrealised losses. The fair value of a derivative represents the aggregate net present value of the cash inflows and outflows required to extinguish the rights and obligations arising from the derivative in an orderly market as at the reporting date. Fair value does not indicate future gains or losses, but rather the unrealised gains and losses from marking to market all derivatives at a particular point in time.

The fair values of derivatives vary over time depending on movements in interest and exchange rates and the trading or hedging strategies used. The negative fair value as at 30 September 1997 does not represent the profitability from such transactions. It arises from contracts that have generated net positive cash flows (on which interest is being earned) since their inception but which are expected to generate negative cash flows over their remaining term.

In addition to customer and trading activities, the Group uses, inter alia, derivatives to manage the risk associated with its balance sheet. The principal objectives of asset/liability management are to hedge the market value of the Group's capital and to manage and control the sensitivity of the Group's income while maintaining acceptable levels of interest rate and liquidity risk. The Group also uses a variety of foreign exchange derivatives to hedge against adverse movements in the value of foreign currency denominated assets and liabilities.

The table below shows the notional principal amount, gross replacement cost and fair value of derivatives held by the Group, split between those entered into for customer-related and trading purposes and those entered into for balance sheet hedging purposes.

Detailed below are the net deferred realised and unrealised gains and losses arising from hedging contracts used to manage interest rate exposure or used to hedge anticipated transactions. These gains and losses are deferred only to the extent that there is an offsetting unrecognised gain or loss on the exposure being hedged. Deferred gains or losses are generally amortised over the expected term of the hedged exposure.

CONTINGENT LIABILITIES

General

There are outstanding court proceedings, claims and possible claims against the Group, the aggregate amount of which cannot readily be quantified. Appropriate legal advice has been obtained and, in the light of such advice, provisions as deemed necessary have been made.

India - National Housing Bank

In 1992 the branch of ANZ Grindlays Bank Limited in India ("the Bank") received a claim, aggregating approximately Indian Rupees 5.06 billion ( $$ 194$ million) from the National Housing Bank ("NHB") in that country. The claim arose out of certain cheques drawn by NHB in favour of the Bank, the proceeds of which were credited into the account of one of the customers of the Bank.

On 29 March 1997, pursuant to an Arbitration Agreement entered into on 4 November 1992, the Arbitrators made an award on this dispute in favour of the Bank. NHB has paid to the Bank the principal and interest due under the award. Subsequently, NHB filed documents with the relevant Court to challenge the award. ANZ is confident that the award will stand.

India - Foreign Exchange Regulation Act

In 1991 certain amounts were transferred from non-convertible Indian Rupee accounts to convertible Rupee accounts maintained with the Bank in India. In making these transactions it would appear that the provisions of the Foreign Exchange Regulation Act 1973 were inadvertently not complied with. The Bank, on its own initiative, brought these transactions to the attention of the Reserve Bank of India.

The Indian authorities have served preliminary notices on the Bank and certain of its officers in India which could lead to proceedings and possible penalties. The Group's lawyers in India have prepared responses to these notices, and the Group considers that the outcome will have no material adverse effect on the financial statements.

ACCOUNTING POLICIES

This report has been based on financial data which has been prepared in compliance with the accounting provisions of the Banking Act, applicable Accounting Standards and Urgent Issues Group Consensus Views. Where necessary, amounts shown for previous periods have been reclassified to facilitate comparison.

The accounting policies have been consistently applied by the entities in the Group and are consistent with those of the previous financial period except that effective 1 October 1996, the Group has adopted the equity method of accounting for associates.

The Group has elected to adopt early the Australian Accounting Standards: AASB 1014 "Set-off and Extinguishment of Debt"; AASB 1016 "Accounting for Investments in Associates"; AASB 1032 " Specific Disclosures by Financial Institutions"; and AASB 1033 "Presentation and Disclosure of Financial Instruments".

Appendix A  Overview of Asian Exposure

ANZ's Asian exposures are a result of its operations in the financial markets and the provision of trade finance facilities and funding to network customers or local corporates. As at 30 September 1997, the profile of the Group's Asian exposures was as follows:

- Local on balance sheet (excluding banks)
- $$ 3.3$ billion, including $$ 1.8$ billion in Hong Kong and Singapore
- $44 \%$ rated the equivalent of investment grade
- $3 \%$ or $\$ 111$ million rated as higher risk, the equivalent of a public rating of $\mathrm{B}+$ or lower
- gross non-accrual loans of $$ 16$ million.
- Banks

Total global exposure to Asian banks is $$ 10.3$ billion, of which $64 \%$ was to Japanese banks. Other aspects of our exposures included

- $91 \%$ of exposures at investment grade, including $99 \%$ for Japanese banks
- facilities, typically short term, with $88 \%$ maturing in less than one year
- outside of the main financial centres of Japan, Hong Kong and Singapore, $51 \%$ of bank exposures is directly related to trade or unfunded Treasury facilities.
- Cross border risk
