

Fund closure- ING Global High Dividend fund

15 NOVEMBER 2010

We have recently conducted a review of the ANZ OneAnswer investment menu and as a result we will be closing the ING Global High Dividend fund (the Fund) to new investors. The investment fund will be removed from the Product Disclosure Statement (PDS).

The closure will not impact existing investments and the Fund will continue to be managed according to the stated investment objective and strategy. However, from 15 November 2010, this Fund will not accept new investors.

ANZ OneAnswer Personal Super and Pension clients can continue to make additional investments and switch on the basis of the PDS under which they entered ANZ OneAnswer.

For ANZ OneAnswer Investment Portfolio, existing clients will not be able to make additional investments or switch as there will not be a current PDS for this investment fund. However, reinvestment of distributions and rebates can continue.

Please note, the closure does not affect transactions that do not involve investment in the fund such as pension payments, withdrawals and switches out, member/investor fees, distributions, insurance premiums, Ongoing Fees, Adviser Service Fees and commissions.

Please refer to the table below for details of how regular transactions are impacted.
