

NEW LOOK AND FEEL FOR ANZ ONLINE

We're enhancing ANZ Online by introducing some fresh, new improvements to our user interface. Over the coming months you will notice the following differences when you log on to ANZ Online:

- a smart, new look and feel reflecting more modern visual design elements.
- improved visual alignment and consistency with other ANZ websites and applications.

We're making these changes to ANZ Online in response to your feedback and to make it more user friendly.

Rest assured, you will still have access to all of your existing features and functions. There will be no change to the way you currently perform your tasks, approve transactions or any changes to user settings and entitlements.
